

Robert P. Gerholz Center for Christian Counseling

First Presbyterian Church of Flint offers counseling through the Gerholz Center as part of our ministry to members of our congregation and the community of Greater Flint. Since we are a ministry we do not charge fees for counseling. It is important to note that we depend on contributions to be able to provide counseling and other services.

Please take this sheet home and prayerfully consider the amount that you might wish to give. As you do, please think about the following points.

- Contributions are another way for you to take part in your counseling.
- Contributions are tax deductible gifts to First Presbyterian Church of Flint.
- A fund of First Presbyterian Church provides most of the money needed to operate the Center. The rest comes from contributions from people like you.
- Every dollar you give adds to our ability to help you and others. So we ask that you commit to contribute some amount every time you come for counseling.
- Please remember that contributions are voluntary gifts to the counseling ministry of this church. We provide this counseling as a ministry. We do this regardless of whether or how much someone contributes.

Below is an explanation of the cost of providing one hour of counseling.

Percent of Cost Of Each Counseling Session	Amount of Contribution

60%	$51.00
